※ Read the article and answer the questions that follow.

Luca's Bistro just opened in New York City, and I had the pleasure of dining there last week. The food was out of this world! I'm originally from Italy, and this is the closest I've come to tasting home-cooked meals in a restaurant. My date and I tried the fettuccine alfredo and the osso buco. Both were cooked to perfection. The pasta was al dente and the meat was falling off the bone. The only downside was the dessert— the tiramisu was a bit too sweet for my taste. Despite that, the overall experience was outstanding, and the prices were quite affordable. I would absolutely recommend this restaurant, but reservations are a must!

문제) What can be inferred about the restaurant from the article?

- ① The restaurant serves food that is not true to its Italian origin.
- ② Luca's Bistro is in Seoul.
- ③ The writer feels the food is comparable to what they've had in Italy.
- ④ The dessert options are extensive.

※ Read the text about the US State, New Mexico, and answer the questions that follow.

In 1540, the Spanish conquistador Coronado trekked through the area known today as New Mexico in search of the fabled seven cities of gold. New Mexico, called the "Land of Enchantment," was the 47th state, entering the Union in 1912. Part of the "Old West," New Mexico was a place known for cowboys and cattle drives. The influence of the Apache Indians who live there is evident in the artwork and culture. The Pueblo Indian presence is also very apparent, most visibly in the tribe's buildings. The state also has a large Hispanic population, as New Mexico was under Spanish control from the 16th century until about 1846. The capital city of Santa Fe, _____ in 1610, has the oldest continually used seat of government in North America. The state flower is the yucca.

문제) What is the main idea of the text?

- ① The state flower of New Mexico is the yucca.
- ② New Mexico has a large Hispanic population since it was under Spanish control until 1846.
- ③ New Mexico has a rich history and its culture has been influenced by many different groups of people.
- ④ Santa Fe has the oldest continually used seat of government in North America.
